

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Culture and Dentistry Create Sparkling Combination

Michigan Dentist Enlightens Under-Privileged Argentinean Youth

Holly, MI - August 19, 2010 – Begin with a little touch of travel, mix in some culture and finish up with a dollop of dentistry and it's really a sparkling combination. Michigan Dentist, Dr. Randy Hunter, of Holly Dental Care, did just that. Traveling to Coronel Grenada of Buenos Aires, Argentina and meeting with Senor Arnaldo Bernini of Primary School Number 21, Dr. Hunter shared his culture and expertise with the children.

On July 21st, Dr. Randy Hunter of Holly Dental Care set out to Coronel Grenada with a particular goal: to teach and help the children of Primary School Number 21. Meeting with the Director General of Culture and Education, Senor Arnaldo Bernini, Dr. Hunter observed the needs of the children first-hand. The children greeted Dr. Hunter with open minds. This primary school houses and educates elementary school-aged children that do not have parents in their lives.

Although the children are impoverished and lacking in many of life's basic necessities, Dr. Hunter was determined to make a difference by sharing some of his North American culture. Providing a donation of hundreds of toothbrushes among other oral care supplies to the school, Dr. Hunter taught the children about the importance of proper oral health care and the insurmountable value of giving to others.

This will not be an event soon forgotten as Senor Bernini shares in his thank you letter to Dr. Hunter upon his return to the states, "This gesture is worthy of standing out - even more so when the ultimate recipients are the children of a sector of the community with insufficient basic necessities." The children's appreciation of the visit and donation was evident on their precious countenances. This is a vivid example of a Sparkling Combination created by simply bringing together Culture and Dentistry.
